OTTAWA, April 19.

The Wood Mountain & Qu'Appelle Valley railway bill passed the senate railway committee this morning.

Prohibition men in the house are greatly disappointed over to-day's repeal of the Scott act in six Ontario counties.

Sir John A. Macdonald was this afternoon presented with a souvenir by the senators and members of the commons from Manitoba and the North-West. It was a pair of polished buffalo horns, upon a raised ebony pedestal. Between the horns is a miniature buffalo in gold and silver.

The bill to amend the Indian act, introduced to-day by Hon. Mr. Thompson, provides that no half-breed in Manitoba who has shared in the distribution of half breed lands will be accounted an Indian; and no half-breed head of a family who has already been awarded scrip shall unless under very special circumstances, to be determined by the superintendent-general, be entitled to be admitted in any Indian treaty. Any half-breed admitted into treaty can withdraw by obtaining the consent of the Indian commissioner. The clause of the old act prohibiting the sale of liquor to Indians is amended by providing that any one who by himself, clerk, servant or agent, and every one in the employment or on the premises of another, directly or indirectly on any pretence gives, sells or barter liquor, will be liable to fine, etc., as set forth in the act.

OTTAWA, April 21.

There is a report that the government intends to subsidize the Hudson Bay railway.

Hon. Thos. White is reported dying. Every reasonable hope of his recovery has been abandoned. All the doctors have given him up. Intense sorrow prevails.

The bill amending the Manitoba & North-Western railway company's charter making it imperative to build only 20 miles instead of 50 annually has passed the house.

Great excitement was caused in Toronto when it became known that Rev. Benjamin Longley, charged with undue intimacy with female members of his congregation, had skipped to the States. His wife and daughter will follow.

OTTAWA, April 22.

Hon. Thos. White died at his residence here at 21:45 Saturday night. About 18 o'clock Mr. Horsey informed Mr. White that there was no hope of his recovery and the dying statesman said he was resigned to his fate. As Mr. White felt the end drawing nearer he bid each member of his family farewell commencing with his wife. His death is a national calamity. He leaves a widow and ten children. The premier was prostrated at the news of Mr. White's demise.

OTTAWA, April 23.

The supplementary estimates for the current fiscal year ending 30th June, were brought down to-day. The amount to be voted is $179,500. Among the North-West appropriations are the following: Regina jail and lunatic asylum re-vote of $4,450, Regina court house $720, N. W. M. Police buildings $27,000, North Saskatchewan river $6,000, to complete Bow river bridge, Calgary, $650, telegraph line from Battleford to Edmonton via Fort Pitt $650, telegraph line between Clark's crossing and Prince Albert including deviation to Stobart and Batoche, repelling, etc., $6,500, grant in aid of St. Albert missions $200, increase of Hayter Reed's salary $400, additional grant of $30 per head for each of fifty pupils in St. Albert institution $1,500, salary of teacher of Indian school at Isle la Crosse $300.

In the commons this afternoon after routine, Sir John rose to move the adjournment of the house as a tribute to the late Hon. Thos. White. He opened his lips to say, "Mr. speaker," but the words did not come. Tears stood in his eyes, and were already in streams running down his cheeks. He placed one hand on his mouth to choke the emotion, but his grief was too great, and he burst into a flood of sobs and tears. He was not alone in this outburst of grief. There was scarcely a dry eye in the house. Sir John realizing his inability to speak touched Sir Hector Langevin's arm, and sitting down buried his face in his handkerchief. Sir Hector Langevin moved the adjournment of the house and made a very appropriate and affecting speech. Hon. Mr. Laurier rose and seconded the motion, and also made a very affecting speech. He said the house had lost one of its ablest statesmen, and sympathized with the premier in his bereavement. On Thursday or Friday last Mr. White was delirious. He repeatedly called for his private secretary and asked if there was any news from the North-West; were the Indians all quiet? The last words he spoke were, "For the last time." It is understood that his life was insured for about $20,000.

OTTAWA, April 24.

Judge Henry has suffered a relapse and is not expected to recover.

The Siberia arrived at Halifax to-day with over 800 immigrants, mostly for the North-West.

Sir Charles Tupper has received a letter from acting secretary Thompson of the treasury department, Washington, stating that hereafter thoroughbred Canadian cattle for breeding may be imported into the United States duty free.

The last scene in the history of the Hon. Thos. White was enacted to-day here and in Montreal. The remains were taken by special train to Montreal, accompanied by all the members of the cabinet and senate, including all the members from Manitoba and the North-West.

OTTAWA, April 25.

A bill to incorporate the Alberta railway and Coal company passed the railway committee to-day.

The name of Dewdney is greatly canvassed among the members as likely to get the vacant interior portfolio.

A return brought in to-day shows the total amount of money distributed by the government in consequence of the rebellion to be $5,895,256.

The Emperor passed a good night and his condition is satisfactory to the physicians. Queen Victoria visited the Emperor's sick room this morning.

Sir John to D. W. Davis said the government were considering the advisability of changing the headquarters of the mounted police from Ft. Saskatchewan to Edmonton.

Gabriel Dumont gave a lecture at the Montreal music hall to-night and drew a pretty good house. Among those present were Judge Caron, Mr. Larcon, M. P., and other notables.

There was an animated discussion in the commons to-day on Gordon's motion for papers on the Behring's sea question. Prior delivered his maiden speech and created a very favorable impression.

From the fact that the premier answered Davis' questions to-day it is taken as indicative that Sir John will administer the interior and Indian departments until after the session, when a re-organization of the cabinet will take place.

The Sudbury, England, stakes for two-year-olds was won by R. Heck's brown filly Dulcies and Lord Londonderry's brown filly Wenona second and Jennings' chestnut colt George third. The race for the Wilbrick cup handicap was won by Sir C. Arthur's three-year-old colt Rosewindow.

WINNIPEG, April 21.

The trial of McKittrick and Villiers for the Union bank robbery still continues.

It is stated that the Emperor of Germany is worse than the last bulletin intimated, but that there is no immediate danger.

The action of libel against W. Baillie of the Calgary Tribune was concluded in the supreme court in Calgary to-day. The jury failing to bring in a verdict to convict they were discharged by the judge.

WINNIPEG, April 23.

McPhillips' directory of Saskatchewan is in the hands of the binder.

The trial of McKittrick and Villiers still continues. Diamond has been discharged.

The Emperor of Germany is reported as somewhat better to-day. The fever is lighter than yesterday.

Emigration from England is very large this week. The Allans are sending three steamers to the St. Lawrence, the Dominion line two, and the Beaver line one all full; in all about 5,000 passengers.

The situation in the east has become more critical within the past week than any time within the past 27 years. The uprising against the government in Roumania together with the determination of Russia to follow up her actions against Prince Ferdinand causes European statesmen serious alarm.

EDMONTON BULLETIN, APRIL 23, 1888.

The Canadian government says to an appeal for protection by Canadian sealers in Behring's sea: "The authority of the government of Canada is limited to the protection of its Territorial waters."

It is a notable fact that the premier did not voice his opinions on unrestricted reciprocity during the recent debate in the house. His pack of yellow dogs should not yelp too loud against this new heresy. He may change position on this question, as on that regarding the C. P. R. monopoly, so quickly as to leave them barking up the wrong tree.

The MacLeod Gazette says editorially: "It is a sad though true fact that at least as far as the southern Indians are concerned not a single man, woman or child has been converted to Christianity by the missionaries, notwithstanding the length of time the savages have been under Christianizing influences." It appears that the Blackfeet are too well satisfied with the belief of their fathers—chiefly sun worship—to wish to change it, especially as they see the divisions of opinion regarding Christianity among the missionaries of the different sects themselves. The Gazette proposes, in order to get over the latter difficulty as much as possible, to allot different reserves to different sects, so that the Indians would not be exposed directly to contradictory teachings.

The copy of the bill to provide a new form of local government for the North-West has not yet come to hand, nor has it had a second reading in the house, so that the premier's remarks on introducing it are the only guide to its scope and intent. Despite the vague nature of these remarks and the premier's well-known ability to represent everything in its best possible light the provisions of the bill as outlined meet with the most vigorous opposition from all quarters. The Toronto Week, which can generally see as much good in government measures as they really contain thinks "Some of its provisions remarkable if not unique." "In the dubious light of Sir John A. Macdonald's introductory explanations it would seem as if a North-West assembly without responsible officers to guide its legislation or do its bidding must be a nondescript affair, and its deliberations a near approach to the farcical."

Hon. W. J. Christie of Brockville, Ont., at one time H. B. officer in charge of Edmonton and at another of the Mackenzie river district, lately gave evidence before the senate committee on the Mackenzie country. He read extracts from the journals of an admiralty expedition which sailed from the Sandwich Islands through Behring's straits without difficulty and reached the mouth of the Mackenzie, which they ascended in ship's boats accompanied by a private pleasure yacht, to Fort Simpson, 520 miles. They returned to the Sandwich Islands in the same summer. He believed that small sea going steamers could pass through Behring's straits and go up the Mackenzie to the rapids at Fort Smith on Great Slave river. He believed that sealing and whaling vessels could be built at Fort Smith, which could go down the Mackenzie to the Arctic, spend several months in fishing and return the same season. He believed that lake Athabasca and Great Slave lake are larger than shown on the maps, the former 250 and the latter 500 miles long.

Up to the moment when the discontinuance of the disallowance policy was announced the Toronto World and Hamilton Spectator, the former claiming to be independent and the latter to be free from government control, expended their valuable time and filled up their valuable space in proving to their readers in Ontario that to abandon disallowance was to strike a heavy blow at the commercial prospects of that province. They posed as the champions of the welfare of Ontario and were prepared to sacrifice all other interests to that one. But since the government of the day—of which both parties are independent—announced that disallowance was to be abandoned they have become utterly oblivious of the commercial interests of Ontario in the matter, and when they speak of it at all announce that the government has made a splendid bargain with the C. P. R.; a bargain by which Ontario agrees to pay a quarter of a million of dollars a year in order that the traffic of the North-West may—according to the World and Spectator—be taken from it. Talk of the yellow dogs of Manitoba, but they are nothing alongside the Ontario breed.

THE LATE MINISTER OF INTERIOR.

The announcement of the death of Hon. Thos. White, minister of the interior, was received with universal regret in this district, and doubtless throughout the North-West. As the affairs of the Territories are administered at present the federal minister of interior has in many respects almost absolute powers. To his hands are entrusted Territorial affairs, and in his hands rests the power to make or mar the prospects not only of the region at large but of thousands of individual settlers as well. Mr. White's accession to office marked a great change in the methods of the department of interior. Being an experienced and industrious business man the machinery of his department was made for the first time in its history to run smoothly and effectively. Being a thoroughly practical man, he was able and took the trouble to as far as possible arrive at a personal understanding of the requirements of the varied interests of the vast region over which he was given almost supreme control. He accomplished a great deal in reversal of the ruinous policy of his predecessor, and had he been spared would certainly have accomplished more. To the reforms in the administration of the public lands introduced under his rule must be attributed in some degree the increased immigration of the present year. It seems hard that he should be removed now that his labor was beginning to bear fruit, and before he had been able to complete the line of reforms which he had commenced. Had he possessed greater ability and sterner will he might have carried through many reforms which he projected on his accession to office, but which he was compelled to abandon for the time, and as it turned out for all time. But whatever may have been his short-comings, as a member of the Canadian executive he earned for himself the reputation of being thoroughly honest and earnest, practical and far seeing, in the discharge of his official duties. It is to be hoped that his successor will profit by the example which he set and will continue the policy which he pursued.

A BOARD OF TRADE.

It is an old saying that what is everybody's business is nobody's business, or what is everyone's interest no one attends to. Where people are gathered together in settlements, villages or towns, although everyone is interested directly or indirectly, in a greater or less degree in the education of the young, the spread of religion and the improvement of the roads, if these matters were left to the parties interested as individuals to attend to, there would be but little done. Even in these simple and universally interesting matters organization is necessary. In order that there may be schools districts are formed and taxes collected; that there may be churches, congregations are organized; and municipalities are instituted to look after the improvement of the roads and local affairs generally. Besides, agricultural societies are formed to forward the interests of that industry, and boards of trade to defend the business and other interests of the places where they are organized. This town and surroundings is well supplied with schools and churches and has a flourishing and useful agricultural society, but it has neither municipal organization nor board of trade although it has many matters requiring attention by such bodies. It is possible that the time for municipal organization has not yet arrived, but that cannot be said, regarding a board of trade. Such an organization has been found necessary and beneficial in every town in Manitoba and the Territories where anything like the amount of the business handled here is done, and it is not to be supposed that Edmonton is an exception to such a well-established rule. Indeed in view of the stupendous possibilities of trade here it is more necessary that there should be organization among those most immediately interested in pushing that trade than in towns where there are no such possibilities. Besides looking after the commercial interests of the place there are other matters of importance which the organization of the board would furnish a means of dealing with such as the direction of immigration to this locality, and the spread of information regarding our mineral resources so that capital might be attracted as well. A few years ago everything was against us and to draw the favorable attention of the outside world to this district was for various reasons a most difficult matter. It may be, however, that the work done then is bearing fruit now. At any rate the difficulty is growing less. Attention is turning this way and deep interest is arising in this locality and its vast tributary country. Before, it was a matter of exciting interest, now it is one of giving the existing interest a proper direction. Individual effort in this behalf is very commendable, but where many are interested all such should join in the work. A board of trade would be able to collect valuable information and secure its advantageous distribution with a stamp of authority as no private individual could, and might also be able to secure the government assistance in that work that has been accorded so many other places. As long as we are without municipal incorporation a board of trade could meet the more pressing necessities of our present condition by opening new streets and improving old ones causing the abatement of nuisances and providing assistance in cases of fire, besides many other things that, although sorely needed, for lack of organization of some kind remain without attention.

MAIL SERVICE.

THE following letter in reply to a petition to have the stage between Edmonton and Calgary make a round trip a week, forwarded to Senator Hardisty at Ottawa about a month ago by Robert Strachan, was received last mail:

WINNIPEG, April 6th, '88.

R. Strachan, Esq., Edmonton.

MY DEAR SIR,—

Your petition signed by so many of the Edmonton and St. Albert people reached me in Ottawa. I presented it to the postmaster-general. He said that he would forward it to the inspector here and have him see what could be done in the matter. I have heard nothing as yet but will make it a point to go and see the inspector before I leave here for the west.

I hope then that something will be finally settled. I am,

Yours faithfully,
RICHARDISTY.

THE CROFTERS.

The Scotsman of March 31st says: "The Allan liner Grecian, which sailed from Glasgow on Saturday carried a party of farmer settlers bound for the colony lately started on novel lines by the Commercial Colonization company of Manitoba (Limited), near Langenburg, in the Canadian North-West. This company puts its colonists on the free homesteads granted by the Canadian government, builds suitable houses, and prepares the land previous to the arrival of the settlers, and advances stock and implements to enable operations to be begun at once—the outlay thus incurred being repaid by easy instalments spread over fifteen years. This party, the first of the present season, consisted of farmers of a highly respectable class with their families, and it will be followed by others of a similar kind at intervals throughout the spring and summer.

Speaking of the acquittal of four men connected with the raid on Galson farm, Lewis, Scotland, on Jan. 17th, the Obit Times says: "We cannot help thinking that the jury, with the recollection of how a former jury's recommendation was treated, and with what ferocity punishment was dealt to a former batch of Lewis and Clashmore men were scrupulously careful of the evidence and rejected everything with the slightest suspicion of doubt. In fact the late heavy sentences put this jury on their mettle, and they took the course which commended itself to all right thinking men, that of bringing in a verdict of 'Not guilty.'"

The people of Strathly, Sutherlandshire, held a land league demonstration recently, John Mackay who addressed them said they would never go to British Columbia as long as there were thousands of acres in the Highlands under sheep and deer. They condemned the estate management for refusing the land of Strathly to the inhabitants of Strathly and Balligall.

The Duke of Sutherland has offered holdings in the Strathalladale deer forest and sheep run, the lease of which has expired, to the crofter population of the district and neighborhood. Strathalladale formed part of the land where the Sutherland clearances occurred seventy years ago.

The Scotsman says editorially: "Parliament has taken up the case of the crofters. They are getting their rents reduced all over the Highlands. They are being helped where there are fishings, to get boats. They will be helped to emigrate to more favorable lands."

At a meeting of crofters held at Helmsdale, Sutherlandshire, Scotland, last week, it was agreed to petition the Duke of Sutherland to grant permission to the people of Loth and Kildonan to begin work at the gold fields in Kildonan Strath.

At Clashmore the Crofters agitation has ceased. In Lewis the march dyke between Galson and Ness moorland grazings is being threatened. The authorities will continue the protection of several districts in the island.

A party of Scotch fishermen from Cockenzie and Preston Pans have gone to Buenos Ayres, South America.

The department of agriculture sent Henry Smyth of Chatham, Ont., on a mission to the Western States in the season of '87 to write down the country and belittle the amount of the alleged Canadian exodus. Mr. Smyth visited Minnesota, Dakota, Montana, Nebraska, Kansas, Colorado and Idaho and found large numbers of Canadians wherever he went, all dissatisfied with the States. But although dissatisfied Mr. Smyth fails to point out the inducements necessary to cause their return. He has hopes regarding the Mormons however. He says: "I got information which led me to believe that a well directed effort next spring would attract many of the better class of Mormons to the North-West, the nucleus of a colony having been already laid on the St. Mary's river, in Alberta."

Negotiations relative to the seal fisheries in Behring's Sea were in progress in London on April 16th.

The Toronto Week commenting on the report of the BULLETIN of the interview between Assistant Indian Commissioner Reed and Chiefs Alexandre and Michel says: "The excuse said to have been offered by Mr. Reed is, in effect, that the government delayed purchasing supplies, in the hope of being able to purchase them from farmers in the district, and failing that the contractor was obliged to bring them from Winnipeg, and was unable, through various delays and accidents, to reach the poor people in time to prevent suffering and death. Such a defence is surely insufficient. The Indian department should by this time have had sufficient experience to enable its officials to guard against such contingencies, and the sums annually voted by parliament must be ample, if properly administered, to save the poor Indians from perishing for want of food. The stories, if true, are a sad reproach to Canada, and throw a heavy responsibility on those whose want of foresight or energy has led to such calamitous results. Honor and justice, not to say christian charity, demand that inquiry be made just as strictly as if the sufferers had been of our own color."

Sir Charles Tupper's report on the prospects of assisted crofter emigration from Great Britain says: "So far, however, no conclusion has been arrived at, owing to the requirements of the imperial government for the return of the money which they would require to advance."

Although immigration to Manitoba is booming there are still nearly as many emigrants passing through to the States and British Columbia as remain in the province.

The federal grant to agricultural societies in the North-West last year was distributed to the amount of $6,614 among 27 societies.

LOCAL.

The thirty days allowed for the payment of school taxes is up on Tuesday next. An instalment of $387.50 has been paid on account of the new school building and as another instalment is due next week it is particularly desirable that the taxes should be paid up.

The arrangement between the Alberta and Athabasca and Chinook Belt railway companies is that if the former has not shown such substantial progress in construction by August 1st as shall give assurance that 50 miles will be completed in November the Chinook Belt charter will issue.

The following telegram, dated Ottawa, April 23rd, was received here on the 24th by P. V. Gauvreau, government land agent: "Minister Interior died here Saturday night. Funeral to-morrow (Tuesday.) Close office. A. M. BURGESS." The lands and registry offices were closed during Tuesday and craps displayed on their doors.

P. DALY & Co.'s building adjoining Brown & Curry's store was removed this week to the lot opposite Jas. McDonald's carpenter shop, by M. McCauley. The building formerly occupied by the Indian department as a storehouse has been purchased by Mr. Daly, and will be removed shortly to the same lot as the building already moved.

ELMORE BROS. started a party of men to the Landing on Monday to build a warehouse there for the goods for their Athabasca trade which are being brought in from Calgary by McPherson's train. The men engaged are Ab. Simpson, Jas. Lauder, C. Bremner, ex-constable Blair, D. Stewart, and Walter Lang, who will make a boat's crew for the trip down the river.

A LATE issue of the Winnipeg Call contained a list of the townships and sections proposed to be traversed by the Chinook Belt & Peace River railway from Glichen north to the Saskatchewan. The crossing of the Saskatchewan was set forth to be on section 23, township 52, range 25 west of the 4th meridian, or the western extension of the Miner's Flat, with the privilege of deviating five miles either way.

ALTHOUGH the spring opened later than usual and the seeding season will therefore be short the condition of the soil is most favorable for an even and rapid growth. When the snow goes off very early there generally follows a long spell of varying weather during which there is no growth and the ground gets dried out so that when the heat does come the ground lacks moisture and the result is a slow start and uneven growth. Now, however, the soil is damp, and the weather will be hot enough to produce growth before it dries out, consequently the grain will not have to wait for the summer rains to start it.

On account of the high stage of water when the ice was running out on Tuesday all the bars and banks of the river are piled with cakes of ice to a thickness of fifteen or twenty feet. The greatest thickness ever known here. Usually as soon as the ice goes out the ferry can be put in and run, but although the ice ran out on Tuesday afternoon it has been impossible to get the ferry scows at work yet partly owing to the difficulty of cutting a launching way and roadways through the masses of ice on the banks and partly owing to the cakes of ice which keep continually dropping into the water and floating down, making the running of scows difficult and dangerous. Skiffs have been crossing since Tuesday.

Free Press April 16th: "Thirty colonist cars arrived yesterday from Ontario destined as follows: 2 for Carberry, 4 for Portage la Prairie, 6 for Langenburg, 2 for Neepawa, 2 for Shoal Lake, 10 for Deloraine, 1 for Moose Jaw, 3 for Winnipeg. Out of a train load of immigrants who reached here Saturday only 20 remained in the province, and of 165 who arrived yesterday only a very few remained. On both trains the great majority were Europeans, a few of whom were bound for Minnesota and the balance for British Columbia and Pacific coast states.

The Winnipeg Call is horrified at the idea that Premier Greenway's friends should attempt to make political capital for him out of the accession of the federal government to his demands regarding the discontinuance of disallowance. It is very funny to see the Gall and, Vampire the only two papers in Canada supported for solely political reasons, crying out against "political capital" and "political effect."

Mr. Watson will ask the government if the C. P. R. have selected all their twenty-five million acres of land subsidy, and if so how much is in Manitoba; also if the government has taken over the land returned in lieu of their former loan, and if so, how much in Manitoba? He proposes advocating that the government take over all the land they have and throw it open at once for settlement.

The Newfoundland assembly rejected by a vote of 20 to 7 the proposal to confer with the Canadian government with a view to entering confederation.

Amendments to the U. S. interstate commerce bill have been introduced to shut out the competition of the C. P. R. between the Pacific and Atlantic coasts of the United States.

In the Manitoba legislature on the 16th the reply to the address was moved by R. P. Roblin and seconded by Mr. Geley who was elected as an independent. Messrs. Leacock and Kirchoffer, elected as conservatives, gave the government an independent support.

As a result of the recent alleged discovery of petroleum near Lake Dauphin, Manitoba, a Winnipeg company has been organized with a capital of $100,000 to put a well down 1,000 feet. The well already sunk only reached the top of the rock strata upon which indications of oil were found. The rock will have to be bored before a well can be hoped for.
